

ZERO WASTE HOME

" Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Rot (and only in that order) is my family's secret to reducing our annual trash to a jar since 2008

Bea Johnson

Look at the picture above. Do you believe, what Bea Johnson claims, is possible? What other questions do you have thinking about the picture and its message? Note them down.

Now try to get your questions answered. What other things will you learn along the way? Make notes.

This video might be a good starting point.

Read about the zero-waste lifestyle in this interesting article.

Also, visit Bea Johnson's website for more information.

For even more information use your search-engine of choice.

Now that you know all about the zero-waste lifestyle, let's discuss the matter.

Are you an early bird? Typical over-achiever? Use your superpowers for the good cause and collect useful chunks of language to create a vocab list.